Essential Insights into Research Entitlements
We deliver the reporting and insights you need to analyze your research consumption and spend, in a timely and cost-effective manner.

Solutions for the Buy-side:
- Evaluate high-quality research from more than 1,000 contributors with our entitlement tracking systems for your portfolio construction process.
- Gain insights into contributor research packaging with entitlement grouping for a better picture of specific research packages.
- Manage your research entitlements in one location with detailed usage reports, controls, and insightful reporting.
- Monitor research dependency and entitlement strength, alongside all reports consumed by users at the firm level, with enhanced real-time analysis via our Research Allocation Report and Comprehensive Report.

Solutions for Research Providers:
- Review entitlements, accessibility, and usage with enhanced reporting capabilities via our Research Allocation Report and Comprehensive Report that lets you drill down into firm and user detail.
- Manage your research packaging with new entitlement groups to offer specific research packages to your firm’s specifications.

Robust Reference Data to Drive Your Workflow
Simplify your workflow with our extensive linking capabilities for securities, issuers, and entities. Help meet regulatory reporting requirements that require a specific classification system while using a different classification for benchmarking.

- Easily identify and link securities to the issuer and automate for further efficiency by leveraging our comprehensive database of over 37 million global instruments.
- Leverage a robust cross reference suite linking entity and security level identifiers from over 500,000 LEIs, spanning over 40 million securities and ISINS for efficient reporting.

Streamlined Access from Anywhere
Easily turn information into actionable insights with our integrated platforms that deliver data the way you want it, whenever you need it: from desktop access to mobile apps to on-demand data feeds.

Service You Can Count On
Nothing satisfies us more than helping you complete a project or meet a deadline. Turn to our 24x7x365 global support team anytime, from anywhere. We’re just a phone call or email away.
